As we celebrate the last day of term next Friday, children are invited to wear a Christmas jumper with their uniform 'bottom'. It doesn't have to be a shop-bought one –choose a jumper you already have and decorate it with baubles and tinsel … and lights if you like!

We are in awe of our kitchen ladies! They have cooked over 250 Christmas lunches in two days this week, in addition to all the usual meals they cook in a week. Have a well-earned rest this weekend, ladies!

Well done also to Miss Willer and the choir. This week they have performed at De Lucy House and at the Mayor's Carol Concert, bringing some Christmas cheer by sharing carols. Everyone has been super-impressed by their performances.

FoRPS still have a few tea towels left, featuring self-portraits of all the children from Years 1 to 6. They are available before the end of term for a bargain price of just £2. To order, email roydonforps1@gmail.com or office@roydon.norfolk.sch.uk

The 100% attendance prize draw winner this week is …
Edward in Foxes!
Enjoy spending your £10 Amazon voucher!

Please remember you won't be allowed to park in the staff car park next term unless you have a permit issued by the school. Blue badges are not valid on private land, so you will need to apply for a permit using a form from the office.

Well done to Zac, our superstar cross-country runner, who came 49th in the recent Norfolk schools competition. His time helped to secure South Norfolk as the winners of the whole competition. What a result!

Thank you for supporting the Year 3 & 4 cake sales over the last couple of weeks. The money will go to help fund their theatre visit in the new year. One more will take place next Thursday courtesy of Rabbits and their parents.

EVERYONE is welcome to join us on Tuesday at 5.30pm in the hall for mulled wine (or juice), a mince pie & carol-singing round the tree. This is a free event to spread some Christmas cheer.
