Many thanks to our governors for all the time they spend visiting us in school and attending half-termly meetings. Apologies to Miss Bower for missing her maths monitoring session next week off the last Heads Up.

We are looking forward to Miss Knott joining Badgers the week after next as part of her teacher training. Mr Bullingham has been volunteering in Rabbits, and will start his teacher training placement in February.

We are looking for people to join us on 1st April to showcase to our junior children the range of jobs that could be available to them in the future. If you would like to talk about your job at our careers fair, please email office@roydon.norfolk.sch.uk

Do you have a favourite children's story you would like to share with some of our pupils? We need guest story-tellers to come in just one lunchtime to read to a group of children of any age. Email us if you are interested in coming along.

The 100% attendance prize draw winner this week is …

Princess

in Kingfishers!

Enjoy spending your £10 Amazon voucher!

One person's unwanted gift is another person's prize possession! FoRPS would like to receive any unwanted items to use at events over the next few months. Please send donations to your child's class teacher before the end of January.

If your child is in Reception, please come along to the Listen, Learn, Explore session on Friday 7th February from 9.00 – 10.00am. Spend some time in Woodpeckers finding out how our youngest children learn at school.

On Friday 31st January at 2.30pm, our jigsaw puzzle library opens for children starting at any local school in September 2025. Membership costs just £1, and you can borrow a jigsaw on a Friday as often as you like!

FoRPS would LOVE to see you at their meeting on Thursday 30th January. Bring your fabulous ideas and your endless enthusiasm, and you might be rewarded with biscuits!
