FoRPS were delighted to see the children's autumn pictures. Well done to everyone, and especially to Victoria in Otters and Eddie in Rabbits who each won a colouring book and some sweet treats.

Next week is Anti-bullying Week and children will be learning about the difference between bullying and falling out with friends. They will be talking about how to get help in school if they or anyone they know is being bullied.

Our super office ladies do love to see parents, but please consider sending an email rather than coming to office at the beginning and end of the day. Please note that the school office will be closed on Friday afternoon except for emergencies.

The 100% attendance prize draw winner this week is …

On Friday 21st November, the FoRPS ladies would love to receive prizes to be used in the adult and children's raffles at the Holly Fayre. In return, children are invited to come to school in non-uniform … but only if they make a contribution to the raffle, please!

Look out on our Facebook page next week for daily family challenges to celebrate Maths Week England. Don't worry - Miss Leftley will post answers at the end of the week!

Help your child's year group get an extra fifteen-minute playtime by sending in an item for the Rainbow Raffle, if you haven't already! Many thanks for all the donations already received.

Cauliflower Card orders were sent home this week – we hope you are pleased with the items you received!
