Thank you to those who have started building the foothills of our sugar mountain. We look forward to seeing it grow and grow over the coming weeks. All bags of sugar donated will be given to the homeless shelter for them to use to give an energy boost to those who have no roof over their heads this winter.

You've got the FoRPS Holly Fayre in your diary for Friday 4th December, haven't you? The fun starts at 2.30pm, and you are welcome to join us from 3.20pm. Christmas starts here!

Please make sure children leave all fidget toys, squishies and sensory chews at home - we have plenty in school for those who need them. Sensory toys from school are causing disagreements, and they are not being used hygienically.

Thank you so much for coming along to the Book Fair and purchasing so many books. The more you buy, the more commission we receive, and Mrs Broadley was delighted to have £250.69 to spend on library books.

We hope you have been joining in with the Maths Week England challenges on our Facebook page. How many did you solve?

This week's winner of the £10 Amazon voucher for 100% attendance is …
Georgie in Foxes!

The classes who will enjoy an extra play-time for best attendance this week are …
Dragonflies and Kestrels!

Next Friday's non-uniform day is for children bringing a contribution for FoRPS' jam jar stall or tombola at the Holly Fayre.
