

Children recognise that art comes in many forms: drama, dance, poetry, craft, painting, sketching, digital art, music, mixed-media and sculpture, etc.

Children have a love of art as a result of exploring different skills & techniques.

Children will have developed their imagination, original thoughts and feelings to produce creative work.

Children can look closely at objects and record and interpret aspects of the world around them using a range of media.

Children know about the work of well-known artists, craft-makers and designers, and understand the historical and cultural development of their art forms.

Children will have self confidence and self-esteem through valuing self-expression

Our children can evaluate and respond to their own work and that of others.
