

Children have a love of music. They listen to a range of music from different composers and to the music from different cultures and traditions.

MUSIC IMPACT

Children express their opinions and feelings about a piece of music.

Children sing and perform different styles of songs from memory, paying attention to detail and harmony.

Children create their own music through experimenting, exploring, improvising and composing.

Children are confident to perform to an audience.

Children enjoy and appreciate live music.